Intranet Chat is a fantastic program that allows you to quickly and easily communicate with other members of the same network. It can be used to send instant messages to all or to a selected group of users, or it can be used to connect to a specific server to chat with all the members of that particular one. Any new member will immediately be added to your friend list and they will be notified when you're online and available for chat, with the exception of those who have you in their 'do not disturb list'. You can then start chatting with the person(s) you're interested in and you can also set status messages to inform your friends about the important things that have happened, such as meetings, work, leisure, etc. In addition, you can set up up to 5 different 'away' status messages, allowing you to indicate that you're not available for a certain period of time. You can also quickly find other users in your network by searching for them in the search window. The chat window allows you to make use of every possible feature you want to, from the ability to add emoticons and smileys, to the different colors and themes available for the interface. It's also possible to quickly change the way the window reacts when you receive a message, such as opening a new window or staying minimized for a while. If you're interested in the whole set of options, you can access the settings menu and there you can change everything from the look of the interface to the sounds and the notifications. The help function offers many additional tips and you can find plenty of help on the support forum as well. You can make use of all these features with Intranet Chat and you will appreciate the broad selection of applications available to your friends in your network.
