For young and young-at-heart adventurers, the Elden Ring, from the popular online RPG Sword Art Online, is now available in Tarnished, an action RPG that intertwines with a multi-layered story born from a myth. Pre-registration is now open for January 15, 2009 I had a doh of a day of work today. In essence, I started the day by catching the train in from work. There is a station called the "Transit Centre" in downtown Toronto. It has been a while since the city has been experiencing water problems, but when I got there, the train was still running on the tracks. I waited for a little while, but the train station was closed for a long time. I jumped on the bus towards downtown Toronto and only had to wait for 10 minutes until I got downtown. So, there are some things I could get done today, but I have no time and it has been nice outside of work today. Too nice, I think. I'm not feeling really well, but I don't know why. I went to my hair appointment today. My hair is long and not that great. I want to get my hair done, but I don't have time. It costs $30, which is quite expensive, but I only need it cut, so it's not as bad. I've also been looking into hair extensions. I'm really undecided on which one to try. I found some samples at a kiosk for $10-15. I don't know what I want yet, but if I like it, I'll probably buy it. This week, I have been reading "Red Dragon, White Rose" by Ted Dekker. I only have a little bit of reading left and I just started chapter 5, so I think I'll have to finish the book tomorrow. It's really good so far. It's finally school again. Even though I have a couple days off, I feel like I should be going to work everyday because I have work. We have a deadline to meet and I'm so behind, but I'm hoping
