Q: NancyFx - Filtering incoming messages I want to restrict the incoming messages which Nancy would send me. I'm considering either using a separate Nancy Host and route it to another port, or sending a MessageFilter for specific IPs and IPs that are authorized by the user. The message filters may be injected into the NancyHost and session filters checked there, but I'm not sure about injection. Is this good or bad and is there a better way to do this? A: You can do it, but you have a few choices for what you want to do: Create a
