I would also like the image to be able to be dragged/repositioned, but only when the link is shown and the image is dragged. I thought I could use the dropzone.js drag-and-drop plugin, but couldn't find how to use the javascript that goes inside the link. Any suggestions? A: You can add an image with CSS to position an absolute link inside it using display:inline. Markup: Link CSS: figure { position:relative; } img { width: 200px; height: 200px; position:relative; } a { position:absolute; top:10px; right:20px; } Q: How to keep the user friendly format with uflate I am using uflate to preprocess some of my strings. It works fine, but I'm wondering if there is any way to keep the format of my input strings. For example, the input string is '1022'. The expected output is 1022: 1022.00 - the decimal is always in this format, except when there is a fractional number Output should look like this: 1022.00 - the decimal is always in this format, except when there is a fractional number It happens only when the number of the output is more than 1, and there is no use in the decimal separator for the output. 3a67dffec

UFC matchmakers Sean Shelby and Chris Holdsworth spoke with the media on Monday afternoon following the 205-pound bout. [instagram url="" hide_caption="0"] [instagram url="" hide_caption="0"] On the topic of both UFC women's flyweight champion Valentina Shevchenko and UFC flyweight champion Demetrious Johnson, Shelby confirmed that neither fighter had been offered a fight after the UFC 212 event. He did, however, assure fans that a decision on Johnson's next fight will be made in the near future. "I don't think [Johnson] is going to be given a fight," Shelby said. "I just got off the phone with his manager and he was offered a fight [against] Chico, but Chico is definitely not coming back and there's no chance in hell that Chico's going to fight. But [Johnson] is still training and there's no one at the top end of the division who's been offered to him. He's been told it's not going to happen, so we'll see what the future holds." [instagram url="" hide_caption="0"] After Johnson defended his belt for a record 14th time and avenged his only loss to Tony Ferguson, there were reports that an immediate rematch was being discussed for the end of the year. Johnson has continually denied such rumors, and Shelby said it was common for fights to be talked about in the first couple of days after the event. [instagram url="
