Veerappan (born 8 March 1935) is an Indian politician belonging to the Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) political party. He was a cabinet minister in the Government of Tamil Nadu under M. Karunanidhi. He is also the founder of the Anna Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam. In 2004, he lost the 2004 Indian presidential election to the Indian National Congress' candidate, A. P. J. Abdul Kalam. Political career M. Veerappan was a close associate of Karunanidhi and a former member of the Indian National Congress party. In 1997, he founded the Anna Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (ADMK) along with other disenchanted members of the DMK. The ADMK nominated him as a candidate for the 2004 presidential election. He got 104,749 votes (0.43% of the total), much less than the required 10% to be elected. Currently M.V. is the founder president of the ADMK See also List of elections in India References Category:Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam politicians Category:1935 births Category:Living people Category:Indian National Congress politicians Category:People from Kanchipuram district Category:Members of the 10th Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly Category:Members of the 11th Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly Resonant Raman scattering spectra of giant biomembrane vesicles. Under fire over alleged misuse of welfare money, the government has found a way to “reduce the pain” inflicted on the poor – by placing them at the bottom of the queue for treatment for chronic health conditions. A leaked report by the Care Quality Commission (CQC), the powerful watchdog which scrutinises health services, warns that the NHS is in crisis due to cuts in funding and increasing demand. It says the number of patients who cannot get the care they need is growing, with NHS England and Public Health England (PHE) failing to significantly improve life expectancy or quality of care. The only area where the review found substantial improvements was in emergency care. There are more than 9 million people in England who have long term conditions and 87% of the public say their condition is not being properly managed. According to the 2018 NHS England Annual Plan, government funding has not kept up with demand, leaving the NHS under intense strain. With over 2 million patients waiting longer than four hours for a GP to see them last year, the NHS has been called out on its performance. This includes a nearly 50% increase in the number of emergency
