Picture of mouth and pussy lips - Pinterest.The invention relates to diagnostic radiography, and in particular, to methods and apparatus for quality assurance of radiographic images. Radiation detector assemblies, such as radiographic imaging plates, films or the like, have been commonly employed in medical diagnostic systems and particularly in X-ray systems. Various systems have been provided for inspecting radiographic images produced on a radiographic film or plate to detect defects thereon, such as faults in the image density or contrast, excessive wear and abrasion on the radiographic film, etc. One such method for inspecting radiographic images is disclosed in Japanese Patent Laid-open Publication No. 61-176583, wherein an image is automatically inspected and classified as good, defective or defective in image quality according to a signal corresponding to a degree of defect and the number of detected defects. The image classified as defective in image quality is recorded in each of three sorts of memories corresponding to three image qualities of the X-ray images. The classified image is selectively read out from the memories for the subsequent inspection. However, this system is not economical since three memories of different types are required. U.S. Pat. Nos. 4,591,848 and 4,681,414 describe X-ray detector inspection systems including a plurality of commercially available image processing systems that are each connected to an inspection control unit. The inspection control unit makes an initial determination of the image quality of a particular image based on the signals of the image processing systems, and signals from the systems are compared to obtain an automatically determined image quality-related parameter. However, this system also is not economical since a plurality of image processing systems are required and the output of the systems are compared to obtain the automatically determined image quality-related parameter. Additionally, these inspection systems are not sensitive enough to detect small defects. Thus, where X-ray images are used in medical diagnosis, different types of inspections must be made at the X-ray image preparation and reading stations, so that radiographs which have been found satisfactory by one inspection method may be found defective by another inspection method. The present invention provides a method and apparatus for quality assurance of radiographic images wherein a control signal representing an output of a CCD sensor or the like, or an electrical signal corresponding to a density level of a radiographic image, such as a voltage level, current level, or the like, is compared to a predetermined allowable error limit to control the operation of a radiographic image preparation system or to
