the the key to the program is the map id. it's a string of hexadecimal digits. the hexadecimal representation is 170. so i'll pick the map id for the us. i figured out how to find the id from the garmin mapsource program. i had to use the calculator to convert from hex to decimal. now, the code generator is fun. i have a 650 with a 25 character code to unlock my maps. i have a 1 gb card, so i can't use the mem card.1) opened the garmin unlock generator 1.3 program2) input gps unit id in the first box.3) clicked on generate for the your gm xt device lock code to generate a code.4) in select map product, scrolled down to custom mapset and entered 170 for us city navigator 8 mapset as per hex code converted to decimal in the registry.5) clicked on generate for the your map unlock code to generate another code.6) opened mapsource.7) clicked on utilities - unlock maps and unlock wizard is started.8) clicked on next9) clicked on yes, i have a 25-character unlock code.10) input the generated codes from the keygen, and only unlocks the map within mapsource. input either generated code, issue remains.11) upon copying the maps from mapsource, states that maps are not unlocked for gps device.anyone have any success with unlocking the maps for their gps device thanksstrtebeker wrote in message news:2luun31ihst5u57nr.4ax.com. 1.3 is on thepiratebay.org if the map you want isn't built in, it would appear you can add the map id string manually to work it out.if i get chance, i'll try to confirm that my legit cs:eu unlock code comes out the same as the one the util generates. 5ec8ef588b
