If you have more than one printer installed in your system, you can select your printer model from the list below., 220-23, 2 Ohio St.3d 76, 441 N.E.2d 284 (1982). {¶19} The trial court in this case, based upon additional facts developed after the plea hearing, did not exercise its discretion in imposing consecutive sentences. Therefore, we reverse the trial court's decision to impose consecutive sentences. {¶20} Accordingly, we find that the trial court erred in concluding that "exceptional nature" applied to McArthur's aggravated robbery offense and, for the reasons cited above, the trial court was required to exercise its discretion in choosing whether to impose concurrent or consecutive sentences. Therefore, we vacate the trial court's judgment entry convicting McArthur of aggravated robbery and remand for the trial court to properly consider the applicable sentencing provisions and make the appropriate findings required by R.C. 2929.14(C)(4) and R.C. 2929.14(C)(4)(b). {¶21} Judgment reversed and case remanded for further proceedings. It is ordered that appellant recover from appellee costs herein taxed. The court finds there were reasonable grounds for this appeal. It is ordered that a special mandate issue out of this court directing the common
